Madam,

I thank you heartily for your yesterday's note and herewith beg to accept the price of £5.- for Prof Maassens collations of the two often mentioned Mss. during a week or about so

I think too highly of your esteem to allow a misunderstanding to pass uncorrected. I asked Mr Gael to charge me for my own work not above the rate of the Monumenta Germaniae. I should have been sorry if he regarded my personal circumstances which thank heavens are not worse than I wish they were. In fact I proposed my charge in exactly the same proportion as the amount charged to The Monumenta Germaniae: considering that I worked altogether 12 days in Thierleins Haus of which $3\frac{1}{2}$ for my own purpose. Any other way of acting would have seemed unfair in my own eyes; it is therefore my duty not to appear otherwise in yours

I beg to repeat my expression of gratitude for the permission to work with you in last month as well as for granting this last request to remain
sincerely yours
F. Liebermann
