Professor Dr. Bernhard Bischoff,
Philosophische Fakultät,
University of Munich,
Munich,
Germany.

Dear Professor Bischoff,

We have learnt with great pleasure from the University of Edinburgh that you will be a member of the party of Professors of the University of Munich which will be paying this University a visit on the 27th May, and I am now writing in connection with the arrangements we are making on that occasion.

When your train arrives in Aberdeen at 9.11 p.m. on the evening of the 26th May, you will be met at the station. Professor G. O. Sayles, Professor of History, and his wife very much hope that you will spend the night as their guest, and we shall arrange your transport to their house.

In the early part of the following morning we intend to show our visitors that part of the University which lies in Old Aberdeen.

Later in the morning you will have an opportunity of meeting those members of our staff in whose work you are likely to be most interested.

What we propose later in the day is described on the attached sheet. It would assist us in making our arrangements if you could let me know which of these parties you would wish to join. If you could give a second choice that would also help, for possibly some of our plans may yet not materialise.

The programme I have described will, we hope, prove an interesting introduction to Aberdeen and afford an opportunity of seeing what this University is doing.

Yours sincerely,

W. S. Angus
Secretary.
