

constructed and the registers composed. These principles pertain to the last Staufer emperor's charters and over the years they have proven their worth, yet they cannot claim to apply to other Diplomata-editions.