

one of the bishop's few supporters, assembled these items with a view towards building a chronicle that might remind the Premonstratensians of their original identity.